the Philosophical Transactions,
For the Years 1731 and 1732.

A.

Myand (Claudius) three Cases communicated by him.

Arcusio, to lay Children under, n. 422, p. 258.

Atwell (Joseph) Conjectures upon the Nature of intermitting and reciprocating Springs, n. 424, p. 301.

Aurora Borealis seen in Maryland, Oct. 22, 1730, by Richard Lewis, n. 418, p. 69.

Another seen in New-England, Oct. 22, 1730, by
J. Greenwood, n. 418, p. 55.

Bahama Islands, Natural History of them, n. 420, p. 174.

Bark used against Mortifications, n. 426, p. 447.

Brighton (Henry) Description of the Water-works at London­ bridge, n. 417, p. 5.

Observations of the Weather at Coventry, for 1707, n. 423, p. 261.

Belchier (John) of an Hydroptic Ovarij, in a Woman that had been tapped 57 Times, n. 423, p. 279.

Le Blon (James Christopher) Printing in Imitation of Painting and Weaving-Tapestry, in the same Manner as Bro­

Botanical Invitation to forward an History of the Plants of Switzerland, by Dr. John-Jacob Schenckzer, n. 421, p. 419.

Boy
INDEX.

Boy, Electrical, n. 417, p. 39.
Boy with a diftemper’d Skin bent with Briffles like a Brush, n. 424, p. 299.

— Corrections and Amendments of his History of the Coccus Radicum, n. 426, p. 444.
Bulbous Plants flowering upon Water, n. 418, p. 80, 81.

C.
Calculi in vesica sponte fratti, & per Urethram excreti Hift. in Epift. Laurentij Heifteri. n. 417, p. 13.
de Caftro Sarmento (Jacob) Letter to Dr. Mortimer, concerning Diamonds lately found in Brazil, n. 421, p. 199.
Child with the Bowels hanging out of the Belly, n. 422, p. 258.
Chinam, n. 422, p. 234.
Clerk (Sir John) de Sty Us Vete divers Chartarum generibus, n. 420, p. 157.
n. 426, p. 444. — Polonicus, ib. n. 426, p. 444.
Colicus morbus singularis, n. 422, p. 236.
Colours, by the three primitive, red, yellow, and blue, may be represented any visible Object; n. 419, p. 101.
Comet seen Feb. 29, 1738, n. 425, p. 393.
de Cometis, n. 422, p. 254.
Contrayerva, an Account of it, n. 421, p. 195.
Corrections of the Errors of Mr. Hadley’s Quadrant, n. 425, p. 352.
Cortex Peruvianus ad Gangrenam, &c. n. 426, p. 434.
Coventry, Observations of the Weather there for 1707, n. 423, p. 261.
INDEX.
Curvarum Hyperbolicarum Quadratura, per Sam. Klingennierna, n. 417, p. 48.

Cyrillus (Nicbol.) Account of an extraordinary Eruption of Mount Vesuvius, in March 1730, n. 424, p. 336.

D.
Davis's Quadrant, n. 423, p. 278.

— Abstract of the Meteorological Diaries, for 1707, 1715, 1716, n. 423, p. 261.

Desaguliers's (J. T.) Experiment of the Friction of the several Parts of a compound Engine, n. 423, p. 292.
— two Experiments of the Friction of Pullies, n. 425, p. 394.
— Experiment explaining a mechanical Paradox, n. 419, p. 125.

Diamonds lately found in Brazil, n. 421, p. 199.

Dove (John) Letter to Dr. Halley, of a Comet seen February 19, 1731.

Douglas (Dr. James) Account of his Brother's Book of the Cure of Mortifications by the Bark, n. 426, p. 429.
— (John) of the Cure of Mortifications by the Bark, n. 426, p. 429.

E.

Edwards (Anne) a large umbilical Rupture, n. 421, p. 221.

Electrical Attraction without any Contact, n. 426, p. 495.
— Bodies, a Catalogue of them, n. 423, p. 291.

Electricity, Experiments by Stephen Gray, n. 417, p. 18.
— of Water, by the same, n. 422, p. 227.
— permanent, n. 423, p. 287.
— 765 Foot long, carried horizontally, and supported by cross silk Lines, ibid. p. 31, and 886 Feet, ibid. p. 44.
— not interrupted by a Loadstone, ibid. p. 32.
— carried several Ways at once, ib. p. 32.

O o o Electricity
INDEX.

Electricity convey'd from the Tube, by holding it near the Line of Communication without touching it, *ib. p. 33.

Elton (John) a new Quadrant, *n. 423, p. 273.

Eye, extraordinary Tumour in it, *n. 426, p. 429.

F.

Fluida rotata, de figuris quas induere possunt, *n. 422, p. 240.

Fluxes, of the Difficulty of curing them, *n. 425, p. 385.

Fountain ebbing and flowing, an Artificial, *n. 424, p. 317.

Freezing of Rivers proceeds rather from the Continuance of the Cold than from the Excess of it, *n. 417, p. 18.

... of Water instantaneous, an Instance of it, *n. 418.

... at Naples at 55° Thermomet. when at London at 65°. *n. 424, p. 336.

Frewen (T.) Letter to Dr. Jurin, concerning the Small-Pox at Hastings, *n. 419, p. 108.

Friction of the several Parts of a compound Engine, an Experiment to shew that it may be reduced to Calculation, *n. 422, p. 292.

... of Pullies, two Experiments by Dr. Desaguliers, *n. 425, p. 394.

Frost in January 1719, a Letter concerning it from William Derham, *n. 417, p. 16.

G.

Ghee, *n. 422, p. 233.

Gingerly Oil, *n. 424, p. 234.

Gramm, *n. 422, p. 231.

Gray (Stephen) Experiments concerning Electricity, *n. 417.

H.

... Observations made for the Trial of his Quadrant, (with Corrections of the Errors) *n. 425, p. 341.

Halley (Dr. Edmund) Proposal for finding the Longitude at Sea within a Degree, *n. 421, p. 185.

Hastings, an Account of the Small-Pox there, *n. 419, p. 108.

Heifler
INDEX.

Hogdson (James) Catalogue of the Eclipses of the four Satellites of Jupiter, for the Year 1732, n. 419, p. 109, for 1733, n. 424, p. 321.

Hopkins (J.) of an extraordinary large Horn of the Stag-kind, taken out of the Sea on the Coast of Lancashire, n. 422, p. 257.

Horn, an extraordinary one of the Stag-kind taken out of the Sea on the Coast of Lancashire, n. 422, p. 257.

Hoxton (Capt. Walter) Some Observations made at Sea, n. 423, p. 278.

Huxham (Dr. J.) Epist. ad fac. Furim. de morbo Colico singulari, n. 422, p. 236.

Hydrops Ovarii, a Case of one in a Woman that had been tapped 57 Times, n. 423, p. 279.

I.

Jaggery, n. 422, p. 231.

Instrument, a new one for taking Angles, n. 420, p. 147, n. 425, p. 341.

Ipecacuanha, its Use in Diarrheas, n. 425, p. 385.

Jupiter's Satellites, a Catalogue of the Eclipses of them for the Year 1732, n. 419, p. 109, for 1733, n. 424, p. 321.

K.

Klein (Jas. Theod.) of the Fossilie Skull of an Ox: The Plica Polonica, and a large Tumour in the Eye, n. 426, p. 427.

Klingensterna (Samuel) Curvarum Hyperbolicarum Quadritura, n. 417, p. 45.

Kolmarter Polonis, n. 421, p. 217.
INDEX.

L.
Laurel-Water a Poison, n. 418, p. 84. n. 420, p. 163.
- mix'd with Brandy for a Dram, ib. p. 85.
- kills by Clytler, ib. p. 89.
- some Antidotes proposed, ib. 100, n. 420, p. 172.
Lauro-cerasus, the distilled Water of its Leaves a Poison, n. 418, p. 84, n. 420, p. 163.
Laywell near Brixam in Devonshire, a Description of its ebbing and flowing, n. 424, p. 303.
Lewis (Richard) of an Aurora borealis, n. 418, p. 69.
Liver, an extraordinary Impostumation of it, n. 420, p. 184.
Longitude, a Proposal for finding it at Sea within a Degree, by Dr. Halley, n. 421, p. 185.
Looseness, the Difficulty of curing it, n. 425, p. 386.

M.
Macbin (John) an uncommon Case of a distemper'd Skin, n. 424, p. 299.
Madden (Thomas) Account of two Women poison'd by the simple distill'd Water of Laurel Leaves, &c. n. 418, p. 84.
Magnetic Needle, an Account of an unusual Agitation, n. 417.

- p. 53.
Magnetism of Steel, n. 423, p. 294.
Marcel (Arnold) Abstract of his Letter to Dr. Desaguiler's, of the Magnetism of Steel, n. 423, p. 294.
Maupertuis (Petrus Ludovicus) de figuris, quas Fluida rotata indure possint, Problem II. cum conjectura de Stellis, quae aliquando prodeunt vel deficiunt; & de annulo Saturni, n. 422, p. 240.
Metals receive the electric Virtue, n. 417, p. 22.
Meteorological Diaries, for 1707, 1715, 1716, abstrahed by William Derham, n. 423, p. 261.
Meteorologicae Obs. Patavij habit, n. 421, p. 201.
Michelottus (Petrus Antonius) de ingenti Sanguinis Vomitu per-quam gelidissimi brumali tempore potionibus curato, n. 419, p. 129.

Middleton
INDEX.

Middleton (Capt. Christopher) Observations made in nine Voyages to Hudson's Bay, n. 418, p. 71, 76.

Miller (Philip) Experiments relating to the Flowering of Bulbous Plants upon Water, n. 418, p. 81.

Morb gravissimas, Anno 1729, n. 425, p. 357, and seq. n. 426, p. 408.

Mortar, the Method of making the best at Madras in East-India, by Ss. Pyke, n. 422, p. 231.

Mortifications cured by the Bark, n. 426, p. 429.

Experiments concerning the poisonous Quality of Laurel-Water, n. 420, p. 163.

Muscular Motion, n. 424, p. 329.

N.

Nerves, a Fluid in them, n. 424, p. 327.

Nervi, do not contract themselves, ib. p. 328.

Nicholls (Frank) of a Polypus resembling a Branch of the Pulmonary Vein, coughed up, n. 419, p. 123.

O.

Observations of Latitude and Variation from Java-head to St. Helena, Anno 1744, n. 424, p. 331.

made for the Trial of Mr. Hadley’s Quadrant, n. 425, p. 341.

taken in nine Voyages to Hudson’s Bay, by Capt. C. Middleton, shewing the Variation of the Compass, &c. n. 418, p. 71.

Ox, a large Fossil Skull of one, n. 426, p. 427.

Paradoxa.
INDEX.

Paradox, a Mechanical, that two Bodies of equal Weight do not lose their Equilibrium, by being removed, one farther from, the other nearer to, the Center, n. 419, p. 127.

Immers. & Emerg. Satellitum Jovis Obs.

Pekini 1729, ib. p. 182, Anno 1730, n. 424, p. 316.

Plica Polonica, casus varissimus, n. 417, p. 50, n. 426, p. 428.

Plica Polonica no real Disease, but owing to Naffiness, n. 417, p. 52.

Marchio Polenus (Johannes) Summarium Observationum Meteorologicarum Patavij habit, n. 421, p. 201.

Polygonum Cociferum, n. 421, p. 217.

Polypus resembling a Branch of the Pulmonary Vein, coughed up by an asthmatic Person, n. 419, p. 123.

Porter (Dr. Robert) Experiment with Laurel Water, n. 420, p. 171.

Pyke (Isaac) of making Mortar at Madras in East-India, n. 422, p. 231.

Quadrant Mr. Hadley’s, n. 420, p. 147, n. 425, p. 341.

—a new one for taking Altitudes without an Horizon, by John Elton, n. 423, p. 273.

Ranby (John) Account of a large Umbilical Rupture, n. 421, p. 221.

Rupture Umbilical, an Account of a large one by John Ranby, n. 421, p. 221.

Rutty (Dr. John) proposes Antidotes to the Poison of Laurel-Water, n. 418, p. 100.

Saint-John (Oliver) Letter to Richard Graham, of the Arcutio, Sanguins

n. 422, p. 256.
INDEX.

Sanguinis vomitus ingens perquam gelidissimus potionibus curatus, n. 419, p. 129.

Saturni Annulus, n. 424, p. 255.

Shipton (Johannes) de usu Corticis peruviani ad Gangrenam, &c. n. 426, p. 434.

Skin distemper’d, beset with a kind of Bristles like a Brush, n. 424, p. 299.

Small-pox, an Account of it at Haslings, by T. Frewen, n. 419, p. 108.

Solis Eclipsts Julij 15, 1730, Pekini, n. 420, p. 179.

Spirits, nervous and animal, ill named, n. 424, p. 330.

Sprengell (Sir Conrad) Letter concerning the Pica Polonica, n. 417, p. 51.

Steel, its Magnetism, n. 423, p. 294.

— imparts Magnetism to other Steel, n. 423, p. 296.

Stelle, que aliquando prodeunt vel deficiunt, n. 422, p. 254.

Stomach, a Stricture in the Middle of it, in a Girl, n. 422, p. 260.

Stones Electrical, n. 417, p. 22.

T.

Tapestry, weaving it in the same Manner as Brocades, n. 419, p. 101.

Toddy, n. 422, p. 235.

Trewsward (Martin) Letter relating to an extraordinary Instance of the almost instantaneous Freezing of Water; and of Tulips and other bulbous Plants flowering much sooner when their Bulbs are placed on Bottles filled with Water, than when planted in the Ground, n. 418, p. 79.

Tube made Use of by Mr. Gray, in his Electrical Experiments; a Description of it, n. 417, p. 20.

Tubbsfat ilkibar, a Turkish Book, n. 424, p. 338.

Tumour of the Eye, a large one, n. 426, p. 429.

Variation,
INDEX.

V.

Variation, Observations of, n. 424, p. 331.

Vegetables Electrical, n. 417, p. 22.

Vesuvius, Mount, an extraordinary Eruption of, in March 1730, n. 424, p. 336.

Urine, an extraordinary Suppression of it, in a Woman, n. 422, p. 259.

W.

Water Electrical, n. 422, p. 227.

Water-works at London-Bridge, by H. Beighton, n. 417, p. 5.
